London 15th
News from Smyrna is awful. Fresh earthquakes at Chios and piles of ruins; over 10,000 people injured and 8,000 dead. The consternation on the main land is indescribable.

THE PROVINCIAL BUDGET.

The greatest test of republicanism or, we might say, of constitutional governments, is the Budget. On this most essential of all bills hangs the machinery of government and the prosperity of industry. In all countries and in all nations the discussions on the Budget command greater public attention and more prolonged debate than any other measure. It is, therefore, with a species of undefined despondency, that we see the new Budget for the Province of Buenos Ayres passed as it were between night and morning, discussed without the formality of being sent to Committee, voted on 'sobre tablas', and proclaimed to the astonished public before even the Press had time to take the matter up and point to certain items against which the whole population of Buenos Ayres protest.

Due to the federalization of this city the Budget this year presented a new phase: the service of the Provincial loans in England, the judiciary of the city, police, Penitentiary, 'en fin' some of the heavies t items in previous budgets were passed to the Nation. Hence it was that the people of the Province of Buenos Ayres looked forward this year to a reduction of taxes and a modification of public expenditure. The tax gatherer in the country towns had stretched his hand over everything that the people in the camp possessed. Each improvement a man made on his land gave rise to increased valuation and an increased taxation: the very cart that a farmer or estanciero kept on his estancia was taxed, whilst the Contribucion Directa, which in former years was so light as hardly to be felt, has now risen to such a figure that a man may term it his annual rent to the Government for his own property.

The legislators of the Province of Buenos Ayres have certainly higher trusts reposed in them than voting their own salaries, and it is truly astonishing that in a matter so extremely personal, so few of the members thought proper to protest against an increase of salaries which, properly speaking, should be abolished in toto. Four millions five hundred thousand dollars for one year's pay to our 75 Provincial Legislators is a sum so extraordinary that meetings in the various country towns should be called to protest against such an expenditure.

But a few years ago, when the fees to the Legislators were so much discussed, many of the members resigned their pay, whilst others handed it to the public charities of the town, but it would seem that we have outlived that sense of shame, and survived those feelings which in former years adorned our public men. It is possible that next year our Legislation will cost the province five millions, and this system of self voting, self remuneration, go on until the evil works out its own cure and the people rise en masse against their representatives who oppress them with taxation.

In most countries the budget or expenditure of a nation is based upon its revenue, but in the Province of Buenos Ayres the Legislators have adopted a new rule, voting first the expenditure and raising the taxes and imports to meet same. With infinite truth D. Rufino Varela has said it: that the Province of B. Ayres is so rich in revenue that the people ought to live free of all taxes and all imposts, since the profits of the Provincial Bank, the profits of the Western Railway, and the sale and rent of public lands should be ample for everything. These were the views of Mr Rufino Varela when the Government of B. Ayres had to attend to the service of its public debt in London, maintain an expensive police force, keep up a Guardia Provincial etc. Yet now that all these heavy items have been assumed by the National Government, and the Governor of B. Ayres still possesses the same magnificent sources of revenue, the bank, railway and public lands, our taxes have to be increased not diminished, the patentes on Provincial trade and industry are to be raised to the skies, the estancia lands and sheepfarms are all to be revalued with a view to make the Contribucion Directa on the property holder double what it is at present, and our stamps to be increased to cover the outrageous deficit of 20 millions which the new budget announces.

The result of all this will be to drive the unfortunate Province of Buenos Ayres down to a still lower ebb, and to chase the farmers and estancieros to other Provinces where the taxation is much less. Lucky the people who hold Rio Negro estancias or whose property is within the bounds of the Capital. The only hope left us is that Governor Romero will veto the bill; he never could put his name to a more unpopular law than this new budget, and from his great market experience and long acquaintance with public affairs, we trust he will have the moral courage to send back the budget with a message that will prove to the people of Buenos Aires there are still left us public men to protect industry against the tyranny of excessive taxation.

JUVENILE HEROISM.

There is so very little of hero worship in the present age that Count Moltke, with great ability, in a recent treatise upon war and its effects, rather astonished Europe by his theory that the chief sequences of war are the men it produces. A battle may be either lost or won, and the victorious nation enriched by new territory or a great war indemnity. These results are, however, inferior to those to which the Count points: namely, the new men that a treaty of peace brings to the front to direct the affairs of a people, and who but for the war must inevitably have passed to the grave unnoticed. Catastrophe would seem to be the parent of heroes, and in a little paper just received from Cuba we have the story of a child who, at the tender age of 13, and with superhuman presence or mind and courage, eclipsed some of the bravest acts indented in history or recorded in song.

Charles Mackenna, a boy of 13 years of age, lived in a three-storey house in Havannah, with his mother and two brothers and a sister. On the morning in question his mother had gone to the market and he was just about to start for school, when on opening the door he found the stairs in flames: he at once shut the door, and, opening the window that looked on the street, called on some men who stood at the corner to come and join hands beneath the window to catch his little brothers and sister, there being no escape out of the house, save through the window, and there being no time to run for ladders, as the very floor of the room was burning. Quick as lightning, quick as the loved pulsations of affection and of a brave true heart, the little boy caught up his little sister, and kissing her threw her from the window, when she was instantly caught by the men below, amidst the roaring of the flames and the shouts of the people. Charles then lifted his little brother to the window, who, frightened at the height, strove hard to keep his hold on his brother and on the window-sill. After great exertion Charles managed to throw him down to the men below, who caught him in their arms. The mob now roared for Charles himself to jump, but this Heaven-born child would not go, as he had yet to save the baby in the cradle. The flames that lit up the house, and the choking smoke, intensified a scene which, our Havannah colleague, El Triumfo, admits, baffles all description: the boy, beautiful and bright, stood at the window but for an instant; nothing daunted at the danger. The whole building was enveloped in flames, but with sublime bravery this little boy took the baby from the cradle, rolled the infant up in a sheet, tied the sheet round his neck, as the fall from the window might have killed the infant, and, climbing from the window to a fire-escape that the people below had put up, blurred over with smoke and almost roasted by the crackling flames that shot out from the windows below, he descended with the little baby to the street, to be caught by an enraptured crowd, who, true to the best of all human instincts, lifted the boy-hero in triumph on their shoulders and carried him so in ecstatic joy through the city.

When Charles escaped with the baby to the street his first enquiry was for his brother and sister whom he had thrown from the high window. They were safe, sound and unhurt, and the mother, the bewildered distracted mother, who, in the darkest moment of her life, saw all that she held dear, all that she treasured as her heart's life-blood saved, frantically kissed her hero child, as only a mother can kiss in such a superhuman moment

The hurrahs of the Havannah crowd, we may truthfully say, have re-echoed through every corner of the world where this story is read. But for the burning house we should never have heard of the boy, Charles Mackenna, whose imperishable deed should not go unrewarded.

"SCHOOL."

This well-known comedy of Robertson's, which had such a prodigious run in England and the U. States, will be given for the first time in Buenos Aires by our English amateurs next Wednesday in the Colon Theatre. The following synopsis may be found useful for those who are not acquainted with the piece:—

The first act opens with a wood scene, discovering the female scholars attending the 'College House, listening to the story of Cinderella, read from a book by Bella, a charity scholar and an orphan of unknown parents. The principals, Dr. and Mrs. Sutcliffe, enter in the midst of a discussion as to what is love. The pedantic but kind-hearted preceptor vainly endeavours to give a definition of the tender passion, after which the girls pass off the stage when Krux, a hypocritical underteacher, makes his appearance. He encounters Bella, who has returned to obtain Mrs. Satcliffe's over-shoes proposes marriage to her and is indignantly rejected. Shortly after wards Lord Beaufoy and Jack Poyntz enter upon the scene to enjoy a sportsman's breakfast, at which they are joined by Farintosh a superannuated beau, a man about sixty, but who, by artificial charms, makes himself appear like a young fop. He urges upon Beaufoy, who is likewise his nephew and heir apparent, the propriety of marrying Naomi Tighe, an orphaned West India heiress, then at the neighbouring school, which proposal the nobleman resolutely refuses. Bella, flying from an infuriated bull chasing her and Naomi, drops one of her shoes, which is picked up by Beaufoy. The bull is shot by Poyntz, who thereby makes the acquaintance of Naomi, while his lordship becomes enamoured of Bella.

The second act gives a school examination, attended by the Beau, Beaufoy and Poyntz, which is one of the most amusing parts of the play.

The third act is devoted to the accidental meeting of Bella and Beaufoy, and of Naomi and Poyntz. The lovers indulge in a moonlight stroll, separately, in the course of which Beaufoy presents Bella with a ring. The interview is watched by Krux, who reports it to his principals, in consequence of which the charity pupil is banished the school. A period of six weeks elapses, during the course of which Beau Farintosh is taken ill and lies almost at the point of death. Upon his recovery he learns that Bella is the daughter of his only son, and goes to the school to claim her as his heiress and grandchild. In the garden he encounters Poyntz, who is clandestinely visiting Naomi, charged by her with the errand of seeking tidings as to the disappearance of her school-girl friend. Farintosh experiences intense disappointment at the unwelcome expulsion of his newly-found grandchild, when Lord Beaufoy reappears and explains that she has eloped at his solicitation. His motives and their consequences are misconstructed, until Bella returns among her former schoolmates, and is announced as Lady Beaufoy, whereupon the play closes with the latter part of the story of Cinderella, with the narration of which the story commenced,

President Vidal, with the philosophy of Hamlet or Victor Hugo's Ane meditates on the critical situation of the country, the Government of which destiny, in its freaks, has entrusted to his hands. Antagonism surrounds him, and his very friends are so many instruments in the hands of his enemies. Was there ever a man in a more critical situation than Dr Vidal? The time has come to throw his physic to the dogs and pronounce his Ciceronian 'quousque tandem.' Eloquence is not the Doctor's forte, and, alas, now-a-days it is impossible for an individual to be really eclectic; there is always some shortcoming, and the field of knowledge is so vast, that it cannot be grasped. The present situation requires a man equal to it—a man with the energy of Santos the rhubarb philosophy of Vidal, the eloquence of Blanco and the experience of Juan Carlos Gomez. A republican Government must be despotic in the extreme under the present circumstances, when invasion threatens from the frontier, dissolution is rampant in the very Government, and party spirit is kindling the spirit of disturbance to reap advantages in troubled waters. Let nobody talk of transactions, which are a slur on any Government and unworthy of our democratic institutions; the law must be obeyed and unmercifully enforced. The situation requires the surgeon's knife and no homeopathic treatment; an iron hand in a kid glove, must crush the elements of discord to the ground; energy is always admirable, but weakness is unpardonable and effeminate. What is the use of a model constitution, of a perfect system of democratic Government, of liberty, patriotism and valor, when they are the very tools of those who threaten to let loose the dogs of civil war and bloody strife. Let Dr Vidal remember that in republican countries law is despotic, and that he has been invested with the primordial duty of carrying it out to the very letter. But alas, it is useless to preach in the desert, when revolutions seems to meet the wishes of those very patriots.

Besides the internal domestic annoyances, Latorre and his ghostly invasion are becoming an insupportable nightmare. Latorre and Santos (the latter only a saint by name) are two bugbears, and it would appear that the Government relishes the pleasure of placing them face to face. These two names mean much for the Banda Oriental; they only represent two individuals, enjoying no popular favour, but the most formidable antagonists of the existing political clubs. It would be useless to inquire why these men, with but few followers, can intimidate the country. Everything in the Government is so personal that principles are entirely overlooked; the people link the names of both these men to despotism and irretrievable ruin. Their opponents make them all important by exaggerating their influence and the medical weakness of the President. The whole affair is a great farce of democracy, as no such thing exists except on paper and in the archives of the Government building. There are men who diligently spread rumours of invasion; others advise Latorre's return, and soforth; the tendency cannot be mistaken. It suits the interests of some, nay of many, to create disturbance, and thus by some unforeseen chance get into power. These turns in public affairs in such a young country as the Banda Oriental are not difficult, whilst those who support disturbance have nothing to lose and everything to gain. Thus, lawyers out of pockets, escribanos without 'testamentarias,' officers without pay, and followers too lazy to work always join these civil commotions, as they can secure an independent position by fraud and violence—a position they would never have acquired by individual energy and enterprise.

You can immediately judge of the status of an individual when he joins a revolution. Any man with an independent position, a healthy mind in a healthy body, will never join one of these mad rebellions, where the majority of unfortunate and blind followers are only so many stepping stones to individual ambitions, rendered the more glaring by mock honesty and a hypocrisy of patriotism that calls for the sarcasm of even a more eloquent pen than that of Macaulay. Is it possible that men can be led to the brink of an abyss through the hero-worship of an individual and the local, narrow-minded patriotism of a few unscrupulous villains? Yet history tells the world that such things occur, and individual experiences do not point very far back in the history of South America to find parallels to such political aberration.

If President Vidal were a Cato, a Crassus or an Avellaneda he would soon find a remedy to the present critical situation. Let him play into the hands of his opponents, mislead them, and then crush them, as they deserve, for he who rebels against constituted authority, preaches revolution, and urges the people to open rebellion is worthy of the fate that befalls the criminal more so even: the latter murders a few, whilst the political criminal murders in rebellion by the hundred and by the thousand. President Vidal has much to answer for, if he does not meet the situation, and may not posterity say of the medical President.

Canst thou not minister to a mind diseased,
Pluck from the memory a rooted sorrow,
Raze out the written troubles of the brain
And, with some sweet oblivious antidote,
Cleanse the stuffed bosom of that perilous stuff
Which weighs upon the state?

Shades of Hippocrates and Aesculapios help him.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The ceremonies of Holy Week were this year favoured with delightful weather, & the churches were crowded from Wednesday evening, when 'Tenebrae' commenced, till yesterday at noon, night alone causing any break in the constant stream of worshippers. The sacred offices at the Cathedral were of the most solemn and imposng kind and attracted, as usual, many foreigners, of all persuasions, to witness them. President Roca was prevented from paying the accustomed official visit to the churches on Holy Thursday by a severe cold which confined him to the house for three days; but the troops of the garrison, in detachments, in gala attire, were taken to all the shrines, in charge of subaltern officers. We believe there was somewhat better order than usual amongst the 'gommeux,' and their files at the church doors did not seem to be either as numerous or as rude to the ladies as we have seen them in previous years. In the Concepcion Church the parish priest posted notices to the effect that all conversation, in high or low tones, was strictly prohibited, and members of the congregation were told off in different parts of the church, to enforce the rule. The usual impressive silence of Holy Week reigned all over the city from Thursday morning till yesterday at noon, when business and all ordinary occupations were resumed; the youngsters in the outlying streets anticipated the time by some hours, and the din or crackers was, in some quarters, truly terrific. There were fewer people, perhaps, in the streets during the holidays than usual, as vast numbers did as is done in England, and availed of the break in business to take a run to Montevideo, Rosario and the camp, a custom which is growing in popularity whenever an opportunity is available. The police had very little to do as the greatest order prevailed during the holidays, and the pickpocket class was almost the only one that required special attention. The music at the San Salvador Church on Good Friday was the grandest ever heard in a B. Aires church.

The Hevelius, of the Lamport and Holt line, has brought dates from England to 19th ult. The news of peace having been concluded with the Boers appears to have been premature. The negotiations were going on favourably. It is getting rather apparent that what the Boers really mean by 'independence' is liberty to keep up the slave business with the unfortunate tribes on their borders, and this England is determined they shall not do; all the telegrams say that the Boers reiterate their pharisaical cant about attributing their victories to a special interposition of Providence in their favour, a presumptuous supposition of which more than enough has been heard. The most profound sensation was caused in Europe by the murder of the Czar, and condolences have literally rained on his son from all quarters. The Houses of Lords and Commons both passed special motions on the sad event. It appears that the poor Czar had absolutely drawn up a sort of Constitution which he intended to bestow on his subjects, but it was a mere burlesque, which the unfortunate monarch was not allowed to appear in. The London police knew on the 12th that there was something wrong in St. Petersburg, as the Nihilists in London were all on the move, as if expeting some important event. The news see Supplement.

Wednesday night, Wednesday night is the watchword in all British circles, and in a great many Argentine coteries also, such is the anxiety to see our amateurs perform 'School,' the plot of which we give in another column. Mr. William Martin was right in his prediction that the coming performance will be the greatest hit ever made by the Buenos Ayres Thespians. It is all through the ladies (God preserve them to us). Twenty fair ones coming forward in a body on a public stage in the sacred cause of Charity is an instance of British feminine pluck that challenges the unbounded admiration of all; and the fair and noble-hearted actresses may rely on it that their audience on the 20th will include, in addition to all the British 'eligibles' in town, a good many fashionable bachelors who would break down hopelessly in an offer of their hand and heart in intelligible English; but, happily, this is a kind of offer that most girls can understand even if made in Greek or Sanscrit. We expect that the coming theatricals will ultimately be productive of several advertizements in our 'Matched' column. Unfortunately, we can make nothing out of them, as we never charge for such interesting 'avisos.'

Everybody is talking of the Provincial Budget and the very singular way in which it was passed. The affair is really enough to frighten the life out of the camp tax-payers and make them heartily wish to be federalized like the more fortunate citizens of the capital. The Nacion had a very sound and most temperate (too temperate, perhaps) article on the ugly business in its issue of Thursday, and we refer to it in our leading columns to-day. As we have before remarked, error seems immortal in the River Plate.

The B.A.C.C. thrashed the Zingari into a cocked hat on Thursday at Palermo, the scores being 180 versus 51. On Friday Town and Suburbs met. Mr D. J. Stokes of Dublin, who came up from Montevideo, to spend the holidays, played for the Suburbs, and, by making a score of 62, enabled them to win easily, by 60 runs.

We hope the Chief of Police will enquire into the outrage perpetrated on an English gentleman some nights ago in the Opera House, as reported in the Libertad. It appears that two 'vigilantes' on duty insulted this gentleman grossly while he was leaving the theatre, and this without rhyme or reason, or the faintest provocation on his part. The policemen used most indecent and outrageous language.

The amusements of the week will open to-morrow with MissCervantes's concert at the Opera House.

Signor Melani, the great Italian violinist, has arrived, and will shortly give a series of concerts. He has kindly invited all the editors in town to a tea seance at the Conservatorio de Musica, to-morrow night, and, if at all possible, we shall feel great pleasure in waiting on him. If editors have a weakness (although they are popularly supposed not to have any) it is for tea well made and the violin will played.

The Dames de la Providence reopened their Kermesse last night, and it will also be open to-day from noon till 5 p.m. and from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. For bachelors burdened with too much cash the Kermesse is the pleasantest place in town whereat to get rid of it, and it all goes to cover the multitude of their sins with the mantle of Charity.

Our cherished little colleague La Reforma of Mercedes reproaches us for breaking a promise we made to tell camp newspapers how to increase their deplorably scanty receipts. We made no such promise, but now beg to suggest to them that less politics and more news in their columns might, possibly, conduce to the desired result.

The price of cattle is falling in Cordoba; fat cows going for 12 Bols. each. There is a very large business going on at Rio Cuarto.

The latest improvement in the Santa Fe colonies is a Free Fair for agricultural produce and live stock, to be held the first Monday in every month at the Pilar Colony.

The first breach of promise action we have ever heard of in the River Plate came off last week before the Superior Tribunal at Montevideo, and the man won 'like a bird.' The lady (a sweet seventeener) sued through her parents to force the young man to marry her; he had courted her for four years and then suddenly 'broke it off.' To the unutterable horror of the girl's mamma, and the fierce indignation of her papa, the Judge gave it as the law's decree, that the young man had a perfect right to 'break it off'; 'Exeunt omnes.'

The Emperor of Japan has astonished his old-fashioned subjects by dining on board a vessel commanded by the Duke of Genoa, the young Italian Prince who visited the Plate when a middy a few years ago.

Mrs Crowe, (Miss Kate Bateman, the actress), having grown too stout for tragedy parts, will retire permanently from the stage, it is said.

The annual swimming race of the Buenos Aires Rowing Club took place on the evening of the 9th inst. at the Riachuelo. Only three competed: W. Scholes winning by about 15 yards, Van Houghten coming in second, and T. Kenyon carefully bringing up the rear.

We feel much pleasure in complimenting the Minister of War on his decided action in the Inca business. The Captain of the Avellaneda is under arrest, and will be tried in Santa Fe, for firing on the Inca.

The concert of sacred music at the Italian Exhibition was postponed yesterday till Tuesday, also the concert of the German Singing Academy, indefinitely.

This being Holy Saturday business was interrupted; the ring formed at the usual hour, but some of the principal brokers did not put in an appearance, as many will not return before Monday. Gold opened hard enough at 28.65 and with every appearance of a very firm market; but the hall was but partially filled, and the crowds in the Plazas and in the streets showed that spite of its being Saturday there was not much going on in the line of business. To-day we received London papers to 19th March; the great event of the European money markets was the new French loan 3 per cent launched at 83½; amount of loan 40 millions; amount subscribed 880 millions sterling. Such a subscription was never before heard of in the history of the world's finance. One check on the London and Westminster Bank for deposits on the loan amounted to 3½ million sterling; the largest check on record.

The Cabo Hornos will not be ready to sail for Chuput for 15 days, this is an immense loss for the Welsh colonists in town, and the matter will be brought under Pres. Roca's notice to-night. Many of the Welshmen talk of going back to England in the Hipparchus, the matter calls for the severest censure. Who is to blame?

Dean Dillon we hear sails for Southampton on Tuesday in the Hipparchus, being unable to get away in time for the Patagonia.

The offer of Mr Benitez was accepted, he offering to pay for the privilege 80,000 m/c per annum against 60,000 m/c offered by Messrs Bossio & Martinez; with the exception of Mr Cano, all the Committee preferred Sr Benitez's offer and the report accordingly was drawn up.

We hear from the provinces that the English yacht party arrived at Mandoza on horseback from Rosario all right, and that Bolivian trade with Salta promises a great revival in May.

Mr Herman Altgelt, in his important corn circular, gives the following:—

"The wheat crop has been officially estimated at 473,500 fanegas of 15 arrobas. From what we can individually gather the crop of 1881 does not exceed 360,000 fanegas; of course the latter figure does not include the crop of the Province of B. Aires, which it is nearly impossible to ascertain. The arrivals of the week have been very limited, and no figures could be had, as the offices of the different firms have been closed. One lot of Costa wheat was sold at $205; some Salado at $190; a very fine Rosario quality fetch d $196. The market closes firm. Flour is very indefinite; the bakers will not pay the current prices. There is nothing doing in maize. There is much demand for iron. Two ships arrived with cargoes of pea-nuts, sold at 100 and 105 m/c per 100 lbs. As regards the conflagration in the San Carlos colony there is no truth in the rumour."

Mr Jose Atkins, who has arrived up from Patagones in the Villarino, reports the greatest improvement down there. The town of Patagones is growing very fast and is double what it was ten years ago. People are arriving down there from Buenos Aires every week, most of them going up the Rio Negro to see the country, buy lands, and start new estancias. All the land on the Rio Negro for 20 leagues from Patagones is in the hands of private parties; further up it belongs to the National Government and will not be sold, as the Government keeps same for the purpose of starting colonies.

The steamer Tycho Brahe arrived at Santos on Thursday and will leave there on Tuesday for Europe.

It may interest the holders of Municipal Bonds to know that 5 p. cent of the Municipal revenue hitherto paid into the Bank for the Board of Education, will, in all probability be retained by the Municipality, to be applied by the Board towards the payment of the coupons on the Municipal Bonds. Mr Alvear with 7 or 8 of the Municipality visited President Roca last Saturday evening; and the President, on the matter being explained to him, stated that he would use his influence with the minister of Education that this 15 per cent fund instead of been given to the Board of Education, that owns millions, should be retained by the Corporation to pay its coupons.

It was rumoured on 'Change to-day that there is every probability of Dr Plaza being shortly called to the Cabinet, and as it is well known that this talent d gentleman has already drawn up a scheme for free banking, and the total abolition of fiscal bank privilege, the rumour in question was not without its effect in the market. There can be no doubt that President Roca could not intrust the Department of Hacienda in abler hands; but for Dr. Plaza, in all probability, the payment of the amortization on the Argentine Home and Foriga Debt would have been suspended in 1876, and during the years of great commercial crisis, when he held the 'cartera' of Hacienda, it required all his ability to increase the revenue of the country in order to meet its obligations. His 'memoria' for the year 1876 presented to the Congress of 1877 is one of the ablest r sumens ever published on the finances of this country; his views respecting the paper dollar, the Provincial Bank, the Cedulas, and the Mortgage Bank, which at the time made him so very unpopular, are now proven to have been sound, and only objectionable then, as being too much in advance of the times and the necessities of the market; with Dr Plaza in the National Government House now we may look forward to the abolition of forced currency, the abolition of bank privilege, the abolition of wretched Bolivian paper money, the abolition of adulterated silver coinage, the closing up of the Hybrid provincial banks in the Interior, and the simplification of our coinage and our currency. The National Bank, which owes so much to Dr Plaza, will in all probability under his able guidance and protection become the great bank for the whole of this Republic, and we congratulate General Roca on his shrewd discernment in securing for his Government at a moment so critical the services of a man of such acknowledged ability as Dr Victorino de la Plaza.

The stock of wool in the barracas of Montevideo is estimated at 190,000 ar., which for this time of the year is a very large quantity for that market; the stock of wool here is estimated at a million and a half arrobas, which is also a very large quantity, whilst out in the camps of Buenos Aires there is still said to exist a million of arrobas; it is plain, therefore, that we shall have wool for export all through the winter, which is not usual in the River Plate; as yet the shipments are behind those of last year, but before the season ends the wool men are of opinion that the clip will show a great increase on the previous year.

It appears that the Capital question for the Province of Buenos Aires will shortly be settled, Belgrano will be named as the temporary Capital, but Bahia Blanca is to be declared the real Capital of the Province. We regard the solution as a good one, and hope the Directors of the Southern Railway will at once set about extending their line to the future Capital, which will remove all talk of expropriation.

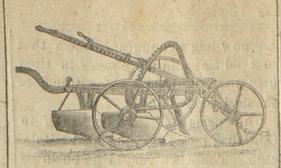
HOWARD'S CELEBRATED PLOUGHS

Howard's Double Plough.



The above implement effects a great economy in the time and cost of ploughing, and its success has been very marked wherever it has been introduced. The depth of work can be regulated by the lever as the plough proceeds and at the ends, the plough is lifted by the same lever clear off the ground.

The implement is so strongly constructed that in the hands of Kaffirs it cannot readily be injured.

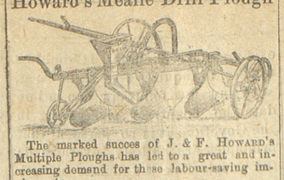
Howard's Mealie Drill Plough



The marked succes of J. & F. Howard's Multiple Ploughs has led to a great and increasing demand for these labour-saving implements.

In addition to the economy effected by their use in time and wages, their usefulness has been materially increased by the addition of a simple drill which deposits the seed in the middle furrow, where it is immediately covered with the earth raised by the next plough share.

By this means the cost of sowing is avoided, and no seed is wasted by being exposed to birds or vermin, nor is it trodden by the draught cattle. The seed is moreover sown at a uniform width and depth, and thus a regular growth of the crop is insured.

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

(Ex Army Medical Staff)

CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

—o—

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases—Diptheria, Fever, Croup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitations and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

Extracts from Medical Opinions.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy or any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne.—See Lancet, Dec. 31st, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq. late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay. 'Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed.

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports (December 1865) that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. Collin Browne's Chlorodyne was administered, the patient recovered.

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera. 'So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases.

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, August 1st, 1860, which states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the inventor of Chlorodyne, that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.

CAUTION. None genuine without the words 'Dr. J. Collis Browne' on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

The Hevelius's Mails

London, 19th March

Lord Beaconsfield asked the Government, in the House of Lords, yesterday, if the statement of the Times was true that it was intended that the evacuation of Candahar should be completed by the 15th of April, but the Ameer Abdur Rahman had requested that the act should be postponed until he had made arrangements for taking over the city and province. Earl Granville said that the statement was not accurate, but it was so far true that there had been some communication between the Indian Government and Abdur Rahman about Afghanistan, but hitherto Lord Hartington had not thought it to be to the public advantage to announce the exact details of these communications. The Indian Secretary had now, however, telegraphed to the Indian Government asking if there was any further information that could be communicated to Parliament without detriment to the public interest. Lord Granville added that if there should be any such information he would be glad to communicate it to the house at the beginning of next week. The Foreign Secretary read a despatch from the Russian Ambassador stating that the present Emperor of Russia had been deeply touched by the resolutions passed by the Houses of Lords and Commons on the assassination of his father. In reply to a question by Lord Waveney, Lord Enfield said that in consequence of a request from the Ameer a quantity of small arms ammunition had been given to the Afghan envoy at Calcutta, and was probably now on its way to Cabul. The Peace Preservation (Ireland) Bill was read a third time and passed.

Sir S Northcote asked whether the Government could give the House any information as to what had taken place between the Boers of the Transvaal and Sir Evelyn Wood. To which Mr Gladstone answered that the report which had appeared in some of the papers that an arrangement had been made with the Boers was premature. Communications having in view such an arrangement were, however, proceeding between Sir Evelyn Wood and the leaders of the Boers; but it was not for him to express an opinion as to the probable issue of those communications, nor would it be advantageous to the public service for him to do so.

In the House of Commons, yesterday, the questions put to members of the Government raised, as a rule, points of but little public interest. In reply to a question from Mr Corbet, Sir William Harcourt said that the story of 'The Man and Dog Fight' at Stackstead, near Manchester, was a ridiculous exaggeration. Mr Gladstone, answering Sir Stafford Northcote, said the Government was not in a position to give any further information regarding the negotiations with the Boers. The Marquis of Hartington said, in answering a question put by the leader of the Opposition, that a paragraph which had been recently published with reference to an offer lately made regarding a proposal to cede Candahar was unauthorised and inaccurate. His lordship expected to be able to place reliable information on the subject before the house early next week. A telegram was read from the Emperor of Russia stating that he had been pleased with the manifestation of sympathy which he had received from the House of Commons. Mr Trevelyan moved a vote for the 58,100 men who had been employed on the sea and coastguard service for the year ending March 31, 1881, including 13,000 marines. After detailing the items for the various services of his department, Mr Trevelyan expressed regret at the enormous increase which had taken place in that branch of the administration, amounting to no less than £400,000 a year, and elicited loud cheers by declaring that the Government was determined that the country should not be permanently saddled with that burthen.

In view of the recent attempts to destroy public buildings, extra police are employed in guarding the precincts of the Houses of Parliament.

A deputation from the S. African Association waited on Lord Kimberley yesterday afternoon, with a memorial urging the maintenance of the supremacy of the British flag in South Africa. In the present state of the negotiations with the Boers, the Colonial Secretary declined to express any opinion on the subject.

The annual meeting of the Liverpool Church of England School Society was held yesterday, under the presidency of the bishop. A favourable report was read by Canon Hume.

The annual return of the volunteer corps of Great Britain, dated November 1, 1880, has been issued. On the maximum establishment there was a grand total of 234,414, composed of 600 light horse, 43,414 artillery, 9869 engineers, 60 mounted rifles, and 189,603 riflemen. Of the grand total 196,938 are efficients and 17,284 had earned the special grant of 50s. In 1860 the maximum establishment numbered 160,321.

Telegrams from South Africa report that great dissatisfaction is felt there in both civil and military circles at the prospect of a peace being concluded under existing circumstances. Reuter's Newcastle correspondent telegraphed yesterday that the opinion was gaining ground that the Boers would finally refuse to accept the conditions of peace proposed by Sir Evelyn Wood. It is stated that the armistice has been prolonged till Monday next.

The Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs has addressed a circular despatch to the Russian ambassadors abroad explaining the principles by which the policy of the new Emperor will be guided. The circular states in effect that the foreign policy of the Emperor will be pacific, and that only the duty of protecting her honour or security will divert the attention of Russia from the internal development of the empire.

Reuter's Constantinople correspondent says the ambassadors of the Powers have agreed to recommend Greece to accept the line of frontier offered in the Turkish note of the 3rd October, with the addition of the Island of Crete.

A Paris telegram states that up to yesterday morning the new French loan of £40,000,000 had been subscribed more than thirty times over.

The Italian Chamber of Deputies yesterday passed, by a large majority, the bill granting 50,000,000 lire for the improvement of Rome.

Vienna papers state that the Austrian Minister for foreign Affairs, Baron Haymerle, has tendered his resignation in consequence of the very unfavourable impression produced at St. Petersburg and Berlin by the omission on the part of the Austrian and Hungarian Parliaments to vote an address of sympathy and condolence on account of the assassination of Emperor Alexander III.

The crew of the German corvette Victoria have destroyed the habitations of a tribe on the Liberian coast who plundered the German ship Carlos. Three chiefs and six other natives were taken on board the Victoria as hostages. One native was killed in the fray, but none of the German seamen were injured. The Liberian governor has agreed to pay £1,000 damages for the plundering of the Carlos by the Kroomen.

An analysis of the census of the population of the United States shows that the whites number 43,404,376, and the coloured 6,577,151. The increase of the white race is greatly in excess of that of the coloured.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP THE MANSION HOUSE.

Late on Wednesday night an atrocious attempt was made to blow up the Mansion House. The eastern end of the building is divided from the large banking premises of Messrs Smith, Payne, and Smiths by a narrow and little-used thoroughfare known as George-street, which curves round to the left into St. Swithin's-lane. There is, except occasionally at the St. Swithin's-lane end, hardly any vehicular traffic throughout the year, and the only entrance to the Lord Mayor's residence at that side of the house is a gateway leading to the cells in which prisoners are confined during the daily sitting of the Justice-room, and from which door convicted or remanded prisoners are removed when the Court rises. The Mansion House is well guarded inside, and at the north front, where omnibuses start, until an early hour of the morning, and the police are always on duty, but the footpath or passage in question is only visited every quarter of an hour, or thereabouts, when the constable on patrol goes through it on his ordinary round.

About half-past eleven o'clock the night policeman, Samuel Cowel, on turning into George-street from Walbrook, observed smoke and fire issuing from a recess in a built-up window beneath the Egyptian Hall. The recess is surrounded by an iron railing, and the officer on his previous visit had noticed nothing and seen no one near the spot. On running to see what was alight he found that the smoke proceeded from some new brown paper, enclosing a flat kind of parcel, placed endwise against the wall of the recess. The parcel was about 24 inches square and five inches deep, nearly the size of a chess-board. The constable, with great courage, though he suspected nothing at the time, at once extinguished what little fire remained, but the discovery was not made a moment too soon, as the event proved. On removing the parcel to the Police-station in Bow-lane, and opening it, it was found to contain a flat wooden box, strongly bound with iron hoops, but with a round hole in the middle of it, from which the end of a fuse was protruding. The burnt outer paper got within an inch or less of this fuse. The box was carefully opened, and discovered to hold at one end 15lbs. of coarse blasting gunpowder, with which the fuse directly communicated, and at the other a part of an old carpet bag, some brown paper, several newspapers of recent date, and a linen bag, in which the powder had evidently been first kept. But for the policeman's opportune discovery a very serious explosion would have occurred, and the result would probably have been more disastrous to the surrounding dwelling-houses than to the Mansion House, where the walls are in some places as much as ten feet thick. A reward of one hundred pounds has been offered by the Corporation of London for the arrest of the miscreants.

The motive of the crime is a mystery. The Lord Mayor (Mr Alderman M'Arthur), who is now in official residence with his family at the Mansion House, and who is himself an Irishman, has, it is true, caused great dissatisfaction to his Irish constituents in Lambeth by his support of the Coercion Bill; but it is most unlikely that the perpetrators of the outrage had any personal vengeance to wreak upon his Lordship. It is thought by some that the object was the robbery of the splendid Civic plate kept in the Mansion House, by causing with the explosion an alarm and panic, and thus enabling thieves to get into the pantry. The result of the excitement caused by the affair in the city is the provision of additional police and other protection not only to the Mansion House, but to the Bank and other public buildings.

The Mansion House, it may be stated, was built upon the site of the old Stock or Dried Fish Market in Walbrook in 1737, from the design of George Dance. The first stone was laid by Mayor Perry in 1739, and the building completed in 1752, the first Lord Mayor who resided there being Sir Crisp Gascoigne, an ancestor of Lord Salisbury. The building cost the modest sum of £43,000. The Egyptian Hall was designed by the Earl of Burlington, and is so called from its accordance with the 'Egyptian Hall' described by Vitruvius.

Al Publico

P. DILLEMANN y Ca., para evitar juicios erroneos en el asunto de la marca PESCADO, hacen constar:—

1º. Que sacaron en el año 1874 Patente por la marca PESCADO en Francia.

2º. Que sacaron Patente de la marca PESCADO en el año 1876 en la Republica Argentina en toda forma para los articulos de FERRETERIA y CUCHILLERIA que acostumbran introducir en este mercado, como marca de COMERCIO y de FABRICA, la cual les fué concedido para SU USO ESCLUSIVO. La Patente fue publicada durante un mes en los diarios, segun lo prescribe la ley, sin que hubo alguien que hubiera protestado contra ella.

3º. Que habiendo sido introducido una imitacion y falsificacion de su marca, acusaron criminalmente la casa que habia cometido este delito. La casa en cuestion, los Sres. Mantels y Pfeiffer, fue condenada y la sentencia publicada en los diarios por cuenta de ella.

4º. Que recien durante la tramitacion del proceso la casa de Mantels y Pfeiffer hubo hacer valer la patente de su fabricante en Francia a la Carpa, y pidio su registracion para Couturet Denise y fils, la que les fue negada por la oficina de patente por ser PROPIEDAD EXCLUSIVA de P. Dillemann & Co. en la Republica Argentina, como marca de COMERCIO, y de FABRICA.

5º. Por ultimo recurso se dirigio la casa de Mantels y Pfeiffer al ejecutivo en apelacion para obtener el registro de la marca Carpa, y el Exm. Gobierno ha tenido a bien, concederles parte, de lo que es PROPIEDAD NUESTRA, adquirida en toda forma, como lo prescribe la ley.

6º. Al fin diremos, que todos los ferreteros que vienen a nuestra casa, saben que si la marca Pescado ha adquirido una cierta fama es porque hemos trabajado durante muchos años, a esponder los articulos de esta clase en la mejor calidad.

En cuanto a las apreciaciones, que ciertas personas se han permitido hacer de nuestro modo de proceder, no hay necesidad de defendernos, 30 años de vida comercial en esta plaza bastan para haberlos hecho conocer.

AL PUBLICO

La casa de Dillemann & Co. ha creido conveniente llamar la atencion publica por medio de los diarios sobre una cuestion de marcas que ha tenido con nosotros y que ha concluido ahora con nuestro mas completo triunfo.

A estas publicaciones contestamos

1. Que la marca carpa (UN PESCADO) es la propiedad de los fabricantes en cuchilleria Srs. Contaret Denise & Fils quienes lo possen hace mas de 60 años.
2. Que nosotros hemos presentado poder de dichos fabricantes.
3. Que si la casa de Dillemann & Co. ha hecho registrar aqui en su nombre la marca pescado era con el evidente objeto de usurpar los derechos de nuestros representados.
4. Que es ridiculo de Dillemann y Co. llamar imitation y falsificacion los cuchillos importados por nosotros y comprados al fabricante (verdadero dueño de la marca de de 60 años.)
5. Que Dillemann & Co. no son fabricantes sino introductores como nosotros, no tiene valor su pretension de haber anotado la marca Pescado como suya en un pueblito de Francia cuando debian registrarlo en el ministerio de artes y oficios de Paris lo que no consta que hayan hecho.
6. Que por toda contestacion a todos los desahogos de los Srs. Dillemann y Co. agregamos el decreto del Gobierno Nacional.

Por los fundamentos del precedente dictamen del Sr. Procurador General de la Nacion queda sin efecto la resolucion de 24 Octubre 1878 por la que la Oficina de Marcas de Fabrica y Patentes de Invencion denego a los Srs. Mantels y Pfeiffer la marca CARPA que estos solicitaron en representacion de los Srs. Couturet-Denise et Fils para articulos de cuchilleria, y vuelva el espediente a dicha Oficina para que sin perjuicio a los Srs. Dillemann & Co. verifique el registro correspondiente en los terminos de la Ley.

Comuniquese, publiquese e insertese en el R. N.

ROCA

A. del Viso.

Como se ve este decreto pone fin a cualquier polemica y no justifica de ningun modo el proceder de la casa de Dillemann & Co. a pesar de sus 32 años de vida comercial en esta plaza.
